Pooling the expertise of two drive experts ARIS plans strong growth through synergies with new parent company

A takeover that combines the expertise of two renowned companies: On 1 May 2025, UK-based Kinetrol Ltd Trading Estate acquired 100% of the shares in ARIS Stellantriebe GmbH.

This acquisition combines and strengthens the expertise of two experienced companies: both drive experts are known for high-quality, robust products that guarantee a long service life and reliability even in harsh industrial environments. ARIS has made a name for itself over the past decades with the production of electric actuators. Kinetrol manufactures and exports pneumatic actuators to countries around the world and has numerous subsidiaries and distribution partnerships.

The acquisition expands Kinetrol's product portfolio to include electric actuators, while ARIS benefits from the strong global distribution network of the globally active company. The decision lays the foundation for further growth and enables both companies to tap into new markets. There will be no changes for ARIS customers or employees as a result of the collaboration. The familiar contact persons in all areas and the management team will remain unchanged.

ARIS Stellantriebe will continue to manufacture high-quality actuators for industrial use at its site in Troisdorf. The company draws on its 50 years of experience to manufacture innovative products such as the fully electronic Tensor2 precision actuator, which is available in a wide range of configurations.

The ARIS Stellantriebe team is delighted about the expansion of the global network through the acquisition of Kinetrol and is available at any time for contact and project enquiries.
